Thank you

Dear church family,

Thank you to each and every one of you that has supported me these last few difficult years. Jesus has walked with me through the darkest times of my life, and I give him all the glory. For all the prayers, phone calls, cards, teatimes, brunches, financial support, meals after surgeries, and hugs – thank you for each and everyone of them. I especially want to thank Pastor Jeff for all the counseling, prayers, visits, and caring he has shown us during this extremely difficult journey. While there were many stressors in my life that most were not aware of, I did something wrong and I am doing my best to make amends and put my life back together. I am sorry for any anyone that has been affected by my past decisions. I want to again apologize to my family for all they have been through because of my wrong decisions almost two years ago. My advice to my church family is that you should never let the enemy have a seat at your table, as we recently learned in Sunday school (excellent series!). No one is exempt from Satan’s snare and sin can touch anyone’s life in a way you would never anticipate. We are not above experiencing the sins of the world just because we are a strong Christian in a strong church family. Statistically, I am not the only one in a group our size that has dealt with this problem. If anyone wants to talk to me with their similar situation, please feel free to do so with the promise of anonymity. I also encourage anyone who is struggling with addiction of any kind to seek the help of a 12-step program. There is so much help in those rooms. Again, thank you my dear church family for all you’ve done.

Love, Melissa Detweiler
